Approval date:	Dec 12th, 2018

Overview:

The health professional college regulations designated under the Health Professions Act (Act) each mandate standard minimum work hours to maintain registration. Section 5 of the Act requires candidates for registration to be employed for a number of hours in practice over four (4) consecutive years immediately preceding registration. The Newfoundland and Labrador Council of Health Professionals (NLCHP) and the Colleges determine this standard through its initial registration and renewal registration application process.

Health professional work hours may come from a variety of settings to ensure high quality care and service that is evidence based and appropriately managed.

It is generally accepted that there are four (4) domains/practice settings of work within any health discipline namely direct clinical, education, research and administration.

Requirements for registration, including work hours and any employment documentation are considered personal information. The NLCHP is a public body that must comply with the objectives and principles of the Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act (ATIPPA). The information collected as part of the registration and registration renewal process is for NLCHP use only. It will be utilized for several purposes inclusive of registration, renewal registration, and discipline and quality assurance.
